

PLEASE DO NOT LESSEN INDIANA'S TELEPHONE PRIVACY LAW PROTECTIONS BY INSTITUTING A NATIONAL STANDARD THAT WOULD BE LOWER. I was receiving 5 to 10 calls a day and my mother, who is in the early stages of alzheimers, fell prey to countless callers - not having the discerment to say no. To date, since I enlisted for the Indiana "no call" program - I have thankfully receive only 1 call.

I do not want to waste my productive time answering countless penny-anty solicitations NOR do I want my mother to be vulnerable to such calls.

I am an intelligent consumer who researches her purchases wisely and I do not want to return to the flood of solicitation calls to my home if this protection is lessened.
